OPEN CAMPAIGN IN BOND ISSUE FIGHT MAY 28

Board Approves List
at Meeting Last Night

TO OPEN SEPT 15

Junction School Addition Abandoned for Present—Text-books, For Next Year Passed on

LOUISVILLE, May 16.—The campaign for the $75,000,000 bond issue will be formally opened at a one day convention which takes place in this city at the Brown Hotel on May 28. The officers and children of the Kentucky Good Roads Association, together with others active in the movement, are being asked to attend.

Addresses will be made by the Governors of two states at the concluding and evening session of the convention, which will be a dinner in the hotel ball room. Governor Cameron Morrison of North Carolina will tell of the success which his state has achieved by financing school and road improvements by bond issue; while Governor William J. Fields will describe what he hopes to thus accomplish for the roads, schools and institutions of Kentucky. One of the chief officers of the Virginia Good Roads Association will describe the present situation in that state, where according to reliable information from there the pay-as-you-go policy has pretty well broken down and wide dissatisfaction exists among the people because road construction is nowhere nearly so rapid as that which was promised in the campaign last fall when the bond issue there was defeated. Mr. Desha Breckinridge, Editor of the Lexington Herald, will act as toastmaster.

A special invitation will be extended by President Arthur D. Allen of the Association to a number of the principal opponents of the bond issue. Mr. Allen takes the broad ground that in this controversy all are Kentuckians working for what they believe to be the best interests of the Commonwealth. He therefore seeks to encourage an interchange of views on the subject and wants the leaders against the measure to accept this opportunity to hear a fair and frank statement of the other side of the case.

All the members of the Legislature and heads of the State Administration will be asked to attend.

The morning session of the convention will be devoted to organization work and addresses by several leaders in the bond issue movement from various parts of the state. Plans are on foot to form what is to be known as the "Greater Kentucky Association" to supplement and enlarge during the period of this campaign the work of the Kentucky Good Roads Association. This extension of the program is advocated by many because the $75,000,000 bond issue is for the benefit of a number of objects other than roads, the improvement of which will mean a greater Kentucky. In order to give the committees, which will have active charge of the campaign, an opportunity to outline their program of work, no general session of the convention will be held during the afternoon.

SERIOUSLY HURT IN FALL OFF TRESTLE

Virginian Tried to Ride Horse
Over Bridge in Front of Train

Henry Calvin Miracle, of Kaylor, Va., was seriously injured in a fall from a trestle on the L. and N. tracks a short distance east of Middlesboro last night. He was brought to the Brasher-Brummett hospital on train number 24 last night and was not able to talk this morning.

Circumstances surrounding the fall are unusual. Mr. Miracle, according to passengers on the train, was attempting to ride his horse across the trestle when the train approached. Before the train reached him, he was thrown from the horse to the ground fifty or sixty feet below the bridge. The train struck the horse and knocked it from the bridge.

A hospital physician stated that one arm and one leg were broken and that he had sustained other painful bruises. His wife and a number of relatives have been here to visit him today.

ASK COOPERATION ON WORKING ROAD

Dixie Route "A" Invites to Free Road Days, May 19 and May 20

The following letter on road work is addressed to all Middlesboro citizens who are interested in improving the through highway from north to south:

"The citizens of Berea, and all along the line of through highway Dixie Route 'A,' are tremendously interested in the completion of the bad stretches of this road in Kentucky, and their quick improvement to make an open road from the Middle West through Cincinnati, Lexington, Winchester, Richmond, Berwa, London, Livingston, East Bernstadt, London, Corbin, Woodbine, Wilton, Barbourville, Pineville, Middlesboro to Knoxville, Newport, Hot Springs, Marshall, Asheville, Hendersonville and Greenville, S. C., to south Florida.

"Through the cooperation of every town and community in Kentucky in which over 200,000 of our people are taking part, and the citizens of Cincinnati, Detroit and Asheville, N. C., in a plan presented by N. Buckner and C. O'Connor of the Asheville Western Carolina Motor club with the support of other organizations and the city of Asheville, and the citizens and business interests of communities along the highway in Kentucky, these short bad stretches of the highway are being rapidly improved.

"May 19 and 20 are Good Roads days for all the states on Dixie Route 'A,' and you and your friends are invited to be at Barbourville May 19, for a 'mile of new road' on stretch between Barbourville and Corbin, and May 20 for a 'mile of new road' between Roundstone and Berea.

"Come by train or motor—road is in good shape. From the north route south from Lexington through Lancaster and Crab Orchard to Barbourville, and from south through Hendersonville, Tazewell, Cumberland Gap and Middlesboro to Barbourville.

"See for yourself the magnitude of this work, and just how this cooperative plan we are making each dollar invested in this project do the work of from two to four under the usual methods of road work. Besides, it is claimed this is the biggest piece of road construction work ever built.

"Dixie Route 'A,' the Friendly Highway invites you. Big picnic dinners. Please advise if you will come, and how many of your friends so arrangements for your comfort and pleasure may be made.

"Yours for Dixie Route 'A.'"

Public Invited To Mount Moriah Rally

Mount Moriah Baptist Church on Nineteenth Street will have a spring rally here Sunday. At 11 a. m. the Rev. C. A. Robinson will preach and the Thankful Baptist Church will join in the service. The pastor, Rev. J. H. Coleman, will preach at the afternoon service, 3 p. m., and all Middlesboro is invited to this service. "Paul, the Debtor," will be the sermon subject. The church choir will furnish music all day. There will be special solos and duets in the afternoon.

TOMORROW TRACK MEET AT PINEVILLE

The Southeastern Kentucky track meet will be held at Pineville at 1 o'clock to-morrow afternoon. Five or more schools will be entered in this meet, including Middlesboro High, Pineville High, Barbourville High, Union College Prep and Southeastern Kentucky Baptist Institute.

A large number of local fans are planning to attend the meet. M. H. S. is sending the strongest track team she has ever had to this meet. Brown and Chesney are being counted on for first and second in the sprint and the high jump, Lambert for first in the mile, Euster and Wallbrecht for first and second in the 440 and 880 and Stone and Paulconner for the first two places in the pole vault.

The High School weight men have greatly improved since the last meet and are sure of obtaining several points. The relay team is also being groomed for first place. A banner will be given to the winning team and to the high point man. This is the first large track meet to be held in this part of the state and the schools are planning to make it an annual affair in the future.

CITY TEACHERS FOR NEXT YEAR ARE SELECTED

Active Road Boosters to Attend Meeting in Louisville

OUTLINE PROGRAM

Governors of North Carolina and Kentucky to Speak—Desha Breckinridge to Be Toastmaster

City teachers for the next school year have been selected and the list was approved at the meeting of the board of education last night. Monday, September 15, will be the opening date of the city schools next fall. On account of the present industrial outlook in Middlesboro, it was decided to abandon, for the present, the proposition of building a four-room addition to the Junction school.

On account of the fact that the state school text-book contract will expire June 1, other books for next year were approved. There are not a great many changes and the discontinuance of some is caused by their being out of date or the publication discontinued.

Teachers for the colored school will be elected at a subsequent meeting of the board.

The following teachers were elected for the year 1924-25:

Elementary: Miss Carrie Pennebaker, Miss Lela Wilson, Miss Eddie Young, Miss Beulah Bryant, Miss Minnie Foley, Miss Gladys Johnson, Miss Cornelia Arent, Miss Virginia Lovelace, Miss Eva Stobbsfield, Miss Elizabeth Gravelly, Miss Winnie Phipps, Mrs. Iva Hoe, Miss Tilly Dalton, Miss Margaret Davis, Miss Isabel Saalwechter, Miss Rosetta Wood, Mrs. Adeline S. Dinger, Miss Margaret Jameson, Miss Elizabeth Thomas, Mrs. Elizabeth Hawkins, Miss Louise Doty, Miss Isabel Roach, Elizabeth Hurst, Mary Frances Davidson, Viola Herd and Edna Y. Blanton.

Principals: Miss Nannie E. Tipton, Binghamtown, Mrs. Olga H. Bradner, East End, Miss Myrtle Simpson, Junction, Miss Lois Champion, Noe Town.

Junior High: Miss Iudella Lynne and Mrs. Edna Farmer.

High School: Mrs. M. M. Moss, Principal; Miss Nan B. Caldwell, Miss Martha Mitchell, Miss Martha Morrow, John T. Kilpatrick, Miss Mary Skeen and Miss Lillian Stay.

The following were not applicants: Mrs. Grace Lautner, Miss Marian Webber, Miss Stella Cross, Miss Rose Ford Ward, Miss Kern Walker, Miss Barbara Disceglia, F. D. Callahan, T. C. Herndon, Miss Margaret Cooper, Miss Virginia Reeves, Miss Harriet Rogers, Miss Sarah Farmer, Miss Genie Armstrong, Miss Ethel Herring, Miss Charlotte Stiles, Miss Elizabeth Reeves and Miss Mabelle Nelson.

EAST CUMBERLAND AVENUE IS CLOSED

Traffic Must Take Detour Until Street Construction Is Finished

East Cumberland avenue was closed to traffic today to allow the contractors to make necessary repairs on the asphalt. The city has been asked to post a guard there to further insure the place against use by the public and this will probably be done later.

All of the asphalt has been removed at the damaged places and now will be spread while the street is closed. The detour from Twelfth to Sixteenth street which is now being used by the public is in fair condition, being entirely passable in ordinary weather. Considerable work has been done on it by city prisoners.

Work on the East Cumberland bridge continues rather slowly. The matter of pumping off the water in order to lay a firm foundation has presented the greatest problem in the early construction work. The city flusher pump is being used for this work.

COOKE I. O. O. F. GRAND SCRIBE

Local Man Honored at Grand Encampment in Princeton This Week

PRINCETON, May 16.—The grand encampment of Independent Order of Odd Fellows of Kentucky was brought to a close here Wednesday night following a two-day session attended by representatives from all sections of the state. The grand patriarch, John W. Counts, of Paducah, presided at the encampment.

Louisville was selected as the place for next year's meeting and the following state officers were elected:

Grand patriarch, Oscar H. Belov, Louisville; grand high priest, A. R. Juett, Richmond; grand senior warden, A. Galloway, Owensboro; grand scribe, Charles Cooke, Middlesboro; grand treasurer, Ben Durham, Danville; sovereign grand lodge representatives, M. M. Logan, Bowling Green, and A. J. Reed, Lexington.

The feature of Wednesday's session was a street parade headed by the Illinois Central Railroad shop band and an open session of the encampment held in the Christian Church here when Mayor E. Young, Princeton, welcomed the visitors and gave them the keys of the city.

Former State Attorney General M. M. Logan delivered an address in response to Mayor Young's welcome, and Attorney W. J. Miller, Princeton, also made an address. Prayer was offered by the Rev. J. J. Whitehouse, pastor of the Christian Church here.

BELL CO. HAS NO HEALTH OFFICER

Services Badly Needed in Sections No Arrangements for Man Yet

Bell county has been without a county health officer for several weeks and, according to members of the fiscal court, no arrangements have been made to get another doctor for the place.

The county, it is true, could ill afford the expense of paying for the services of a physician, though his pay was never stopped nor the appropriation for the work lessened, it seems.

Need for such an officer is daily stressed here and at Pineville. Many of the cases which came to the attention of the health officer were those of prisoners or cases of such a nature that they were not usually taken to the hospitals.

Beautiful Musicales at Christian Church

HARLAN, May 16.—The musicale at the Christian Church was a success. The musicale was given by local talent under the direction of Prof. J. Wade Seniff. It was one of the best musicales ever given in Harlan. The church was filled to its capacity and everyone enjoyed the delightful program. Ten per cent of the proceeds went to the Harlan High School.

CONDITION OF LANGLEY NOW QUITE SERIOUS

Suffers Nervous Collapse Since Hearing Verdict

IS IN WASHINGTON

Friends Fear Ordeal of Trial May Be Disastrous to Him Family Physician in Attendance

WASHINGTON, May 16.—The condition of Representative Langley, who is ill here, is described today as serious. He is in a state of nervous collapse and he had displayed symptoms of slight cerebral hemorrhages.

Returning here from Kentucky where he was convicted in connection with the issuance of liquor permits, Langley became ill almost immediately. He had been in a deep sleep from Wednesday until yesterday afternoon when Dr. Everett Ellison, his family physician, was summoned.

Friends of Langley expressed the fear that the ordeal of his trial and conviction would prove disastrous to his health. They said he stood the strain of the trial but the shock of the verdict prostrated him. When Dr. Ellison reached the Langley home he found the patient's pulse and temperature below normal and his heart action sluggish. His voice is hoarse and locomotion is difficult.

LOCAL CHURCHES JOIN IN REVIVAL

Evangelist Is Great Bible Scholar—Trio of Singers Grow in Popularity

Members of nearly all local churches are contributing to the success of the evangelistic campaign now in progress at the M. E. Church, South, and these are warmly welcomed by the Rev. W. K. McClure, pastor, and the evangelistic team. The size of the congregation is increasing nightly and last night it was necessary to use a part of the Sunday school department space to seat the audience.

The Rev. M. T. Chandler, evangelist, who uses more Scripture perhaps than the average minister, always repeats it from memory. It is nothing unusual for him to "read" whole chapters in this manner. His sermons are delivered in a clear and forceful manner—nothing sensational, just plain gospel explained in a simple and concise manner.

He preached from the first chapter of John last night, one of the texts which narrate the manner in which Christ acquired his disciples. In this connection, he explained that Jesus is the head, the church, the body and the members the various organs of the body. "If one member suffers, the others are pained through sympathy," he declared.

The Grayson Trio, accomplished young lady singers from the town by that name, is gaining popularity here daily. Not only are they splendid specialty singers and choir directors but also aid in the revival by brief talks along spiritual lines.

BRISTOL CEASES BOOTLEG FIGHT

Twenty Prohibited Violators Arrested in Clean Up of City

BRISTOL, Tenn., May 16.—All is quiet now along "bootleg row" in Bristol. The officers are resting from the series of raids made last week in a general round-up of violators of the prohibition law and the bootleggers are trying to recover from the shock of seeing about 20 of their associates hauled off to jail.

Approximately 20 arrests were made in the crusade and only one case was dismissed in the preliminary hearings. Most of those arrested are in jail and a few are out on bond, awaiting trial.

Cases against the alleged bootleggers were worked up by two plainclothesmen expected to appear in the trials. The rails "left bootleg row" gasping for breath because of the sudden manner in which local police officers threw out the dragnet after evidence had been developed by the plain clothesmen. The bootleggers who remained uncaught took a vow never again to sell whiskey to a stranger.

Violations of the prohibition laws here were said to have become alarming before the sensational raids of last week. Whisky could be purchased in almost any quantities at any price and without difficulty. The police claim that much of the liquor distributed here was sold by bootleggers on West State street and Fourth street, but in the past day or so these streets have been almost deserted by their former habitués. It is reported that more than 50 bootleggers left the city, some of them going to Knoxville and Chattanooga. More than 50 warrants were issued in the clean-up. Those who escaped got word of the impending raids while the detectives were still at work accumulating evidence.

The law violators were struck in two quarters simultaneously, for while local police officers were serving warrants, state and federal officers seized a number of stills in the mountains nearby.

HOLD RIGHT OF COURTS HIGHEST

Power of President to Pardon One Held in Civil Contempt Case Denied

By Associated Press

CHICAGO, May 16.—The right of the president of the United States to pardon any person in a civil contempt case was denied yesterday in the opinion of Federal Judges George Carpenter and James Wilkerson. The opinion was rendered in the Philip Grossman, which was considered by the Daugherty investigating committee. Grossman was sentenced for contempt in a prohibition case and the judges held that if he should be taken into custody to serve a year in jail. "To allow such power," Judge Wilkerson held, "is to strike a death blow at the independence of the judiciary."

Remus Bought Protection From Daugherty's Friend

NOW IN U. S. PEN

Tells of Distilleries and Drug Houses He Owned—Paid $150 to $250 A Case for Permits

By Associated Press

WASHINGTON, May 16.—George Remus, millionaire bootlegger now in Atlanta penitentiary, testified today before the Senate Daugherty investigating committee that he paid between $250,000 and $300,000 to Jess W. Smith for protection.

"I organized wholesale and retail drug companies and sought permits to withdraw liquor under the law," he said, "for sale through drug companies. Smith heard of me as a reasonably large whiskey operator" he added, "and that was the reason I became involved with him."

Among his operations, Remus said, was the purchase of an old Lexington club, apparently a distillery, in Kentucky for $225,000. He also bought the Fleischmann distillery at Cincinnati and the Rugby distillery in Ohio. To Smith, Remus said he paid from $1.50 to $2.50 a case for permits allowing him to take whiskey from a still or distilleries which Remus said he purchased before prohibition went into effect. What Smith did with the money and whether he split it with others, Remus said he never inquired.

Remus agreed that the payments to Smith were the cause of "Smith's influence with the attorney General Daugherty 'to keep the boys out of the penitentiary.'" Remus related that Smith told him there would be a vigorous prosecution in the Remus liquor cases, that the Department of Justice "would put up a fight but that I would never see the penitentiary. The jury might convict me but the case would go up on appeal and be reversed," or, he said a little later, the commutation sentence might be arranged.

Smith said, according to Remus, that Daugherty had agreed that there would be "no putting away of Remus and his men." Senator Remus suggested that Remus was afraid to tell all he knew for fear of further prosecution. Remus said, "It wouldn't surprise me," and added that he had been persecuted. "And you have been doubled-crossed?" Senator Wheeler asked, "I don't know. The dead don't speak," was the reply.

THINKS BIG OIL POOL NEAR HERE

Driller Says Canada Peak and Rose Hill Wells Seepages From It

That a large pool of oil exists at some place in this vicinity or near here and that the showing of oil at the Rose Hill and Canada Peak wells are seepage from this main source is the opinion of Mr. Ross, who is in charge of the drilling for the Canada Peak company.

Mr. Ross, who has had a life time's experience in oil drilling, in various parts of the country, says that there is always such a pool of oil from which feed the smaller wells and that, if this can be found, wells of several hundred barrels capacity are available.

The veteran oil man has had a variety of experiences in the oil game; he has seen fortunes lost in the great gamble and millions made over night. At various times in his career he has been favored by fortune. Drilling at the Canada Peak test well has been stopped pending the arrival of new findings which have been going forward day and night for some time and will be finished as soon as the necessary findings are placed.

OHIO'S THIRD SENATOR

In an editorial last week the Standard Interior Journal scored Senator R. P. Ernst for not taking more interest in helping Judge Flem D. Sampson gain a place on the bench of the United States court of appeals. Of the same party and from a district which is responsible for the election of Senator Ernst, the Interior Journal thinks the Kentucky senator has acted more like an Ohio senator than a Kentuckian in regard to the appointment of a man to fill the vacancy on the United States court of appeals bench. The editorial follows: "When Richard P. Ernst, Cincinnati lawyer, was elected United States senator from Kentucky by the vote of the mountain counties as it was counted, some wag said that it meant that Ohio would have three senators to Kentucky's one. This seems not to have been without prophetic knowledge of conditions in the G. O. P., for the attitude of Senator Ernst seems about to cost Kentucky a place in the bench of the United States court of appeals, for which almost every other Republican, and many Democrats, in and out of office, have endorsed Judge Flem D. Sampson, of the Kentucky county of appeals, and give that place to Ohio.

"Judge Sampson and the Interior Journal have very little in common politically. He is as partisan a Republican as this paper is Democratic, probably a little more so, if any thing. But his record on the bench has been highly honorable, free from taint of partisanship or any improper influence, he is a lawyer of learning and ability and would make a fit representative of Kentucky on the federal appellate bench. Just why Senator Ernst does not join all the other official Republicans from Kentucky and endorse Judge Sampson is not evident.

"Is it possible that Mr. Ernst had rather see an Ohioan appointed to this place, which the Republican leaders concede ought to go to Kentucky, than to give his endorsement to the Kentucky candidate who has been given the backing of practically all the men, in both parties, who should have some knowledge of Judge Sampson's fitness for this place?

"The mountain Republicans, who constitute not only the bulk but the brains of the Republican party in Kentucky, have endorsed Sampson. Why does not Mr. Ernst make his appointment certain, instead of holding out and permitting the appointment to go to Ohio, in which State Mr. Ernst's law practice chiefly is located. The Interior Journal will gladly publish the Senator's answer, if he makes one."

And there sat Alice making a daisy chain

"Where are we going now?" asked Nancy, as Mister Muggs came along in his little magic car.

"I thought you would like to make a call on Alice who went to Wonderland," said the fairyman.

"Oh, yes, yes, yes! We would," cried the Twins. "And shall we see the Rabbit and the Dormouse and the Duchess and the Mad-Hatter and everybody?"

"Well, I can't say that for sure," answered Mister Muggs. "You see Alice lives in Once-Upon-a-Time Land and she met those people when she was away visiting."

"Well, she can tell us about them anyway," said Nancy, "and that's just as good."

They all got into the little car and rode and rode until they came to an orchard marked "Alice's Orchard."

Then they stopped and everybody got out.

And there sat Alice herself making a daisy chain.

"Oh, dear!" she yawned. "I'm so sleepy and it's so warm! I feel as though I were going to fall asleep and have another adventure. I wonder if—"

Just then she saw the visitors and jumped up. "Oh, I'm so glad you came," she cried. "I'm never sleepy when I have company and I'd so much rather talk."

So they all sat down and Nancy began, "Which one of the people you met on your adventures did you like the best?"

"The Duchess' party. Oh, dear, I shall never forget the things that happened to me there! How I grew big and little inside of a minute, until I forgot who I really was. I tried to say the 'How Doth the Busy Little Bee' to comfort myself for being somebody else, and do you know I couldn't even remember it. I said 'How Doth the Little Crocodile' instead."

"I never heard that. How does it go?" asked Nick.

So Alice recited: "How doth the little crocodile Improve his shining tail, And pour the water of the Nile On every shining scale?"

"How cheerfully he seems to grin, How neatly spreads his claws; And welcomes little fishes in With gently smiling jaws!"

"Thank you!" said Nick. "That's not hard to understand. And did you find out who you were?"

"I was myself, of course," answered Alice, "if I did come in assorted sizes. Once I bumped my chin on the ground I was so little. And again I hit my head on the roof, I was so tall. But if all came out all right and there wasn't a bit of use in my crying."

"Did you cry?" asked Nancy sympathetically. "I suppose you were frightened."

"Not a bit," said Alice. "I was a goose to cry for nothing. I made such a pond of tears I nearly drowned everybody. I'll tell you about it to-morrow."

WOMEN TO HEAR DEBATE ON ROADS

Gov. Fields and Paris Man to Discuss $75,000,000 Issue
Before Federation

CRAB ORCHARD, May 10.—Announcement was made before the Kentucky Federation of Women's Clubs in annual session here that Gov. William J. Fields would speak for, and Claude Thomas of Paris, against the proposed $75,000,000 bond issue at yesterday afternoon's session.

Besides hearing reports of committees the delegates Wednesday listened to speeches by leading clubwomen among them were the following:
Mrs. Estelle Wehle, Louisville, president of the Council of Jewish Women; Mrs. R. P. Halleck, Louisville, president of the Consumers' League;
Mrs. T. B. Pearson, Nicholasville,

ent-Teacher Association; Mrs. George T. Settle, Louisville, former national president of the Altrusa Club, and Mrs. E. L. Hutchison, Lexington, president of the Kentucky League of Women Voters.

Reports of officers were next on the programme. These were by Mrs. Bayless, president; Mrs. Arnold, first vice president; Mrs. John S. Crenshaw, second vice president; Mrs. Robert Lee Johnson, third vice president;
Mrs. Grayot, fourth vice president;
Mrs. Stanley Reed, recording secretary, and Mrs. Mary G. Mullen, corresponding secretary.

Memorial services were held for Mrs. L. B. Cockrell, former third vice president, following which greetings from honorary presidents and presidents of kindred State organizations were read.

Wednesday afternoon's session was under direction of the Department of Junior Membership, of which Mrs.
John Pileher, Louisville, is chairman.
A discussion was led by Mrs.
H. G. Reynolds, Paducah. The report of the Department of International Relations was read by the chairman, Mrs. M. H. Daily. "The Harding-Hughes World Court Plan" was discussed by Mrs. A. M. Harrison and music was furnished by the Berea College Glee Club.

CLUB WOMEN ARE LOYAL CITIZENS

General Federation President Answers Accusation of Bolshevik Tendencies

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., May 14.—
"There is no group in America more loyal to the ideals and practices of America," Mrs. Thomas G. Winter, president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs declared here in answering accusations made to the effect that the clubs are being used by the Bolsheviks for the dissemination of Socialistic propaganda.

Ordinary wives and mothers of the nation making up the club personnel, are in no danger of becoming "reds" nor of they choosing officers who violate their own standards, in the opinion of the federation chief.

The following article appeared in the Tribune:
"The mass of members and officers of women's clubs are of distinctly conservative type," Mrs. Winter said:

"They are wives and mothers and grandmothers of America. They have borne the ordinary burdens of life.
That fact alone is sufficient to answer the accusations. The ordinary wives and mothers of America are not in danger of becoming 'red' nor of they choosing officers who violate their own standards, or course it is possible that among 2,500,000 women one could, with a fine tooth comb, find a few reds' but if such could be discovered it would hardly be worth a headline.
It is also possible that radical groups would like to take an inning among us. They would have a hard time in making even a dent. I have had occasion to come into intimate contact with myriads of these women all over the country. A kind of passionate patriotism is their prevailing characteristic and whatever they do for the betterment of conditions in America is along constructive and not destructive lines.

Middlesboro Choral Society Rehearsal

The regular weekly rehearsal of the Middlesboro Choral Society was held last night with a goodly attendance. Three of the new numbers for the next recital were practiced. It was decided to continue the rehearsals through July, and then rest for about three weeks on account of the Director, Professor Harry Rupert Carr, of Knoxville, planning a vacation of about three weeks or so for himself through August. The rehearsals would then be resumed in September for the recital the first week of October.

The musical numbers of the October recital would include choruses and solos from various Grand Operas, such as Martha, Cavalleria Rusticana, Carmen, Rigoletto, Aida, Faust, Ernani, Madame Butterfly, besides a Bach concerto for two violins and piano, and other things. It was discussed holding the rehearsals on Monday or Tuesday night instead of Thursday night, as one of the former nights would suit the majority of the members better than Thursday night. Professor Carr has this under advisement and will possibly let the Society know about this at the rehearsal on Thursday night of next week.
